

Event Tickets

Control spending and make planning corporate entertainment easier.

U.S. corporations will spend more than $1 billion on tickets to concerts, sporting, and cultural events this year. Most struggle, however, to track entertainment expenses and ensure compliance with spending policies and regulatory statutes like Sarbanes-Oxley. Planning corporate entertainment often requires a time-consuming search of multiple web sites.

The Rearden Personal Assistant allows managers to control entertainment spending and improve policy compliance by tracking expenses from the point of purchase to the final expense report.

Employees using the Rearden Personal Assistant can select from thousands of sporting, concert, and theater events. They can purchase tickets from trusted suppliers and expect prompt delivery — even at the last minute. Employees can even use the Rearden Personal Assistant to plan a complete client event including entertainment, travel, car service, and dining.

Savings for Companies:

- Track entertainment expenses from point of purchase to the expense report
- Ensure compliance with company policies and Sarbanes-Oxley
- Simplify employee processes for planning client entertainment

Convenience for Employees:

- Quickly find tickets for thousands of sporting, concert, and theater events
- Ticket Concierge can help locate hard-to-find tickets
- Trusted suppliers promptly locate and ship tickets – even at the last minute
- Plan a complete client event including travel, dining, car service, and event tickets

